11-Year-Old Author and Presidential Hopeful to Visit the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Museum

Noah McCullough will sign copies of his first published book

SPRINGFIELD, IL: On Saturday, May 27, 2006, 11-year-old author and presidential historian Noah McCullough, will visit the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum (ALPLM) - a trip made possible by Martha Stewart's daytime "how-to" show, Martha. During his visit to the ALPLM, Noah will sign copies of his recently published book, The Essential Book of Presidential Trivia by Random House in the Museum Store from 12-3 pm.

"We are pleased that Noah McCullough is visiting the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Museum and will see the impact that books played in the Lincoln story," said Dr. Thomas F. Schwartz, interim Director of the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum. "We are also pleased that he will have an opportunity to sign copies of his recent book on little known presidential facts. Hopefully, Lincoln's story will inspire and prepare Noah for his own presidential run in 2032."

Noah is committed to preparing himself to be a U.S. President. His dream is to be the Republican Party nominee in 2032 and ultimately be elected President. He has been interested in the political process since the famed 2000 election. As a kindergartener, he had big questions about the Electoral College, nominations and platforms. An avid reader, Noah has fed his thirst for knowledge of history from the men and women who have made it happen.

Noah has appeared on The Tonight Show with Jay Leno as well as traveled for Leno as a political correspondent and guest Jaywalking Host. In addition to his work with the Tonight Show, he has been interviewed on the Today Show, Fox and Friends, MSNBC and Oprah as well as radio shows across the country.

Copies of his book are available for sale in the Museum Store.

Press Note: Noah will be available for media interviews prior to his book signing at 11:30 a.m. in the Museum.
