

America's Entry into WWI

April 4, 2017

6:30 p.m., Union Theater

President Woodrow Wilson won a second term by promising to keep America out of World War I. Five months later, our troops were headed "over there." As we commemorate the 100th anniversary of America's entry into the Great War, ALPLM historian Mark DePue explains the series of events, including German submarine attacks, that tipped American public opinion in favor of war.
