

Today is the 10th anniversary of the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum. This amazing site in Springfield is celebrating in a big way and one of the things they have done to bring attention to the 10th year is to have a student art competition.

The pictures on display at the museum are winning selections sent in by student from K-12. Over 1200 entries arrived at the museum and a panel of three judges pored over the pictures selecting three overall winners and runners up from each age group. The end result is a wonderful collection of Lincoln art that is on display in the entry way of the museum until the end of the year.

Check out the exhibit and enjoy the festivities. Abraham Lincoln lives on through the eyes of these talented young artists!
