Homeland Security Contracting Forum

Monday, April 24, 2006

EIGERlab
605 Fulton Avenue
Rockfor, IL
Cost: $15 per person

College of DuPage Homeland Security Procurement Technical Assistance Center (HS PTAC) and the RockValley College Procurement Technical Assistance Center (PTAC) with the Homeland Security Market Development Bureau present this half day conference of up to date practical information on Homeland Security Contracting.

Homeland Security is currently a $45 billion industry that is still growing. Twenty-three percent of federal contracts are identified for small business. The State of Illinois is well positioned to take a leadership role in growing and defining the Homeland Security industry, and this conference will help you develop the knowledge and skills needed to identify and navigate the opportunities.

Objectives

- Discuss current state procurement systems.
- Find out how to do business with the federal Department of Homeland Security.
- Learn to write a successful proposal.
- Learn about the Illinois Innovative Product Grant, plus other grant opportunities, and how to submit an application.
- Identify vulnerabilities for your business
- Find out who the DHS agencies are and what their responsibility is

Homeland Security Conference Forum: 2006 Tour Schedule

May 23 — Black Hawk Community College, Moline, IL
June 14 — John A. Logan Community College, Carterville, IL

Who Should Attend

This conference has been designed with small- to medium-sized businesses in mind. If you feel there is not enough time in the day to explore your business development options, come spend a day with us and receive practical information that can be applied immediately.
