Families by DCFS Foster Care, Adoption & Guardianship

Letter from the Governor

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

JRTC, 100 W. RANDOLPH, SUITE 16-100
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60601

BRUCE RAUNER
GOVERNOR

Dear Foster Parent,

I would like to extend my heartfelt gratitude for all that you do to improve the lives of the children in your care. The role that you have chosen to take is an essential part of our society and provides acceptance and stability for the most vulnerable among us.

As the new Governor of the state of Illinois, I am committed to working with the General Assembly, state agencies and other groups and organizations to ensure that you have the assistance you need to continue the important work of improving the lives of the children in your care.

I am sure that you are aware that our state is in the midst of troubling economic times and that shared sacrifice will be needed to help the state fulfill its most basic of duties. I will do everything in my power to keep the needs of the children a top priority. These needs include strengthening our state's school system, particularly in lower income and rural areas; ensuring that medical services are available and accessible for the most vulnerable and that our state agencies have the appropriate staff in place to provide you and children in care the stability and consistency that is so desperately needed in foster care.

Again, thank you. The work you do each and every day makes a huge difference in the lives and the futures of our children, and you should be commended.

Sincerely,

Governor Bruce Rauner

DCFS Scholarship clears path to college for youth in or after care

The DCFS Scholarship program started with just four awards in 1964. It expanded to 48 annual recipients. This year that will increase to 53 students, with four awards reserved for the children of veterans. Scholarship recipients receive up to five consecutive years of tuition and academic fee waivers to be used at participating Illinois state community colleges and universities, a monthly grant of $511 to offset other expenses and a medical card. Currently, the 48 recipients from 2014 are pursuing degrees with the support of the DCFS Scholarship program and the staff in the DCFS Office of Education and Transition Services. More than 200 students applied for the competitive scholarship. It requires a lengthy and thorough review process to select the finalists, based on their academic achievements, community involvement and personal successes.

The 2014-15 scholarship recipients gathered before heading to school.

Applications DUE March 31

The DCFS Scholarship Program is open to youth who are currently in DCFS care, whose cases were closed through adoption or guardianship or who aged out of care at 18 or older. Youth at least 16 and not yet 21 on March 31 can apply for the 2015-16 academic year. The application process includes a form, SAT/ACT test reports, documentation of legal relationship with DCFS, three letters of recommendation from non-relatives, high school (college) transcripts or GED.

Adoption and foster care can open opportunities at tax time

The decision to support children through foster care and adoption can bring benefits as tax time nears.

Child Tax Credit

Caregivers may qualify for up to $1000 credit per child, depending on the household income, if the child:

- the child is your son, daughter, stepchild, foster child, brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your grandchild, niece, or nephew). An adopted child is always treated as your own child;
- the child was under age 17 at the end of 2014;
- the child did not provide over half of his or her own support for 2014;
- the child lived with you for more than half of 2014;
- the child is claimed as a dependent on your return;
- the child does not file a joint return for the year (or files it only as a claim for refund); and
- the child was a U.S. citizen, a U.S. national, or a U.S. resident alien.

See IRS Pub. 972 Child Tax Credit for more details.

Charitable Deductions

If you itemize deductions, you may be able to deduct unreimbursed out-of-pocket expenses to care for a child in foster care.

Adoption Tax Credit

Legislation in 2012 made the Adoption Tax Credit permanent. A family adopting from foster care in 2014 can claim up to $13,190, the maximum amount allowed under the credit. Families with incomes under $197,880 are eligible for the full credit, which diminishes gradually at higher incomes. Beginning with 2012 tax filings, the credit was no longer refundable. So people who do not owe taxes will not get the credit, which can only be used to offset tax liability.

Earned Income Tax Credit

- The federal credit for low income, working families can be as much as $496 to $6,143, depending on the number of qualified children. To qualify: the household income must be under $14,590 - $52,427, depending on family size and filing status.
- you must have earned income – usually wages or self-employment.
- In some cases taxable disability benefits qualify as earned income. See IRS Publication 596 for details.

Dependency Exemption

The exemption for dependents could lower your income tax, and lead to benefits in these areas: child care credit – for working parents (IRS pub. 503) education credits – based on out-of-pocket college expenses (IRS Pub. 970) head of household filing status for unmarried parents (IRS Pub. 501)

Be sure to explore these topics more at IRS.gov or with a professional tax advisor. Additionally, the Center for Economic Progress provides free tax preparation services for families with income under $50,000. To find a location, go to: www.economicprogress.org.

ADOPTION TAX CREDIT ONLINE COURSE

Adoption Learning Partners offers a broad catalog of online courses for current and prospective adoptive families. The adoption tax credit is one way the federal government promotes and supports adoption. Though the adoption tax credit provides a very valuable benefit to adoptive families, it is also a complicated tax law provision.

The course will help adoptive families:

- Determine their eligibility for the adoption tax credit
- See how the adoption tax credit works with different types of adoptions and financial situations
- Track and document expenses
- Prepare for year-end tax planning and work with a tax professional.

This course is available for free. Caregivers can register at www.adoptionlearningpartners.org

Financial aid options for youth who have been in DCFS care

Students planning to attend college must apply for financial aid. This is done by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). After submitting the completed FAFSA form, the student will receive the Student Air Report (SAR) which will list a number called Expected Family Contribution (EFC). The schools use the EFC to determine what type and how much financial assistance can be offered to the student towards the Cost of Attendance to attend that particular school. It does NOT mean that the student can plan to attend any school and only pay the amount of EFC listed on their SAR. A student will still need compare schools' awards to determine if they can afford to attend a specific school based on the amount of financial aid being offered, the amount and type of possible loans and the cost of the school.

For students who have been or are still in the child welfare system, the major factor for determining the type and amount of financial aid is the student's status as a "dependent" or "independent" student. As an independent student, the parent's income will not be included in the formula which typically results in eligibility for more financial aid. When calculating financial aid, foster parents' income or the board payment is not considered on the application. There are two child welfare-specific questions on the FAFSA used to determine "dependency" status. One question asks "At any time since you turned age 13, were both your parents deceased, were you in foster care or were you a dependent or ward of the court?" A youth who is currently in foster care, adopted at age 13 or older, or who reunited with the parent after age 13 should answer this question "Yes" and parental information will not be requested on the FAFSA filing. The other question on the FAFSA is "As determined by a court in your state of legal residence, are you or were you in legal guardianship?" Those students who had been in a guardianship relationship are also considered "independent." Most students will be required to prove this independent status. Many school financial aid departments will accept a letter on agency letterhead as documentation or some may ask for the actual court document.

It is important that each youth submit their FAFSA applications as soon after January 1 each year as possible as many grants are "first come, first served." Students can access the FAFSA application at www.FAFSA.gov (not .com). The student's high school and local community college can assist in filing the application. In addition the DCFS Education Advisors and Transition managers can also help families make plans for college. For more information contact DCFS at 312-814-5959.

New Count Down to 21

DCFS is "counting down to 21" to make sure that a young person leaving DCFS care can emancipate with a firm foundation to transition to adulthood. The goals for the Countdown to 21 program are to enable young adults to:

- have connections to family, community and social supports
- live in a safe, affordable and sustainable housing situation
- be employable, (and/or in college full-time)
- to manage money effectively

• be registered to receive health care

At age 19 and again three months prior to discharge, every youth in placement will participate in a Discharge focused Clinical Intervention Placement Preservation (D-CIPP) staffing. The transition team, including the youth, caseworker, supervisor, transition manager and other supporters, will meet with a professional facilitator. The team will assist the youth to develop a comprehensive, realistic plan for transitioning from foster care. Countdown to 21 also includes the requirement that at 19 the young adult participates in a Department-approved course on financial literacy. The course is designed to help youth prepare to manage funds during the time left in placement and throughout their lives after discharge. Youth who successfully meet the "Countdown to 21" requirements and demonstrate that they are likely to safely manage funds will receive $1,200 in emancipation funds to assist them in financing elements of their transition plan.

DCFS education and work programs prepare youth for adulthood

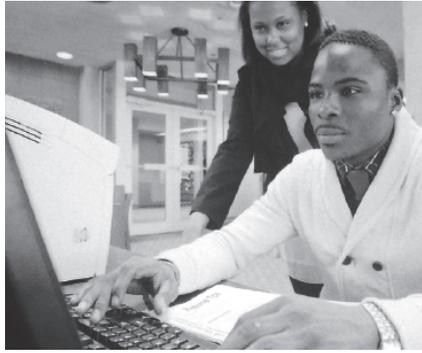

There are several education and employment programs for older youth who are still in DCFS custody, offered by the DCFS Office of Education and Transition Services. Youth who achieved permanency through adoption or guardianship typically fall outside of eligibility. However, they can apply for the DCFS Scholarship program and the Education and Training Voucher is available to youth adopted after 16. To clarify eligibility or for further information, DCFS has transition coordinators assigned to each region. These individuals can help youth and their families explore different educational and employment resources from DCFS and in the community. To contact a regional transition coordinators, call the office in Chicago at 312-814-5959 or in Springfield at 217-557-2689.

Youth In College/Vocational Training Program

Students may choose to attend an accredited vocational school, four-year college or community college. They receive a monthly grant in the amount of $471 provided each month for up to four (4) years. Medical cards are provided to Illinois students until the participant reaches the age of 21, with eligibility for extended coverage to age 26. Reimbursement is available for books not covered by financial aid. Benefits are available until the earlier of four (4) years, or the semester of the 23rd birthday.

Eligibility Requirements:

- Be at least 16 years old, and not yet 21
- Be under court-ordered, legal responsibility of DCFS
- Maintain at least a “C” average each semester
- Maintain full time status and submit a class schedule and grades each term

Derrick Wright, a 2010 DCFS Scholarship recipient, is doing well at Southern Illinois University.

The Employment Incentive Program (EIP)

The Employment Incentive Program is designed to provide financial and supplemental services to help adolescent youth gain marketable skills through on-the-job work experience or through job training programs. Participants receive a monthly stipend in the amount of $150.00 for a maximum of 12 months. They may also be eligible for start-up funding of work-related items (e.g., tools, work clothing, etc.). Funding is need-based and limited to a one-time disbursement of up to $200.00.

Eligibility Requirements:

- Be 17 years of age, and not yet 21
- Have a high school diploma or a GED certificate
- Be under court-ordered responsibility of DCFS
- Complete Casey Living Skills assessment
- Be involved in job training through a certified job skills training program or be employed for at least one month prior to applying for the EIP and working a minimum of 20 hours per week

Education & Training Vouchers

The Education and Training Voucher (ETV) program assists youth with post-secondary education related expenses not covered by financial aid grants and scholarships. Qualifying students can have access to funds up to $5000 annually for education related expenses such as tuition, fees, books, supplies, uniforms, equipment, and/or transportation not covered by other grants or scholarships. Funding is available until age 21. However, if the student is enrolled in a post-secondary program before age 21, has used ETV prior to age 21 and is making satisfactory progress toward completing the program, funding is available until age 23.

Eligibility:

- Youth for whom DCFS is legally responsible or who aged out of care at age 18 or older
- OR
- Achieved permanency at age 16 or older through either subsidized guardianship or adoption.

New online training keeps brothers and sisters connected

DCFS recently launched a new training prepared specifically for children and youth in foster care who have brothers and sisters who are also (or used to be) in foster care. The training provides information on the new law for sibling rights and the new policies and procedures.

In child-friendly terms, the course explains the importance of sibling relationships and the youth's rights to be connected with their brothers and sisters. It also discusses the ways the adults involved in a child's life will support the connections between brothers and sisters.

The training takes about 10 to 15 minutes. It is available on demand on the DCFS Virtual Training Center at www.dcfstraining.org. It is included under the public content menu so children will not need to have a VTC account. They or their caregiver can simply select the course and begin watching.

After a short introduction, there is a point to choose to continue viewing the information for children or for the adults. Caregivers may even want to do both and spend some time talking about what you learned. This training complements the training that staff will receive so all can work together to support connections between brothers and sisters during and after their time in care.

Statewide Foster Care Advisory Council Update

New members: (front) Pauline Barlow, Kurt Kalas (back) Kelly Fargher, Pamela Webb, Stephanie Jones, Kellye Norris and Charlene Burris

The Statewide Foster Care Advisory Council met in Joliet for the January meeting.

Update from Training

The council reviewed and provided feedback on the revamped PRIDE curriculum, now called PRIDE Illinois. The pre-licensing training will be offered in the classroom and in a hybrid model that includes portions of guided computer portion and in-person group sessions. Social media information is included in this new training and other foster parent suggestions are being implemented. The new version will be rolled out in September.

Implementation Plans

One key task is to receive and score the Foster Parent Law Implementation plans from all foster care programs. The council has completed the review of the plans and will be recommending standout plans for awards. The policy committee is also reviewing proposed changes to streamline the evaluation process. Later this spring the group will conduct on-site reviews at specified agencies. These ensure the programs put into practice the rights and responsibilities they include in their implementation plans.

The Statewide Foster Care Advisory Council was founded in conjunction with the Illinois Foster Parent Law. Membership consists of caregivers representing the DCFS regions, agency representatives and other experts in child welfare, who are appointed by the DCFS Director.

THE NEXT MEETING

of the Statewide Foster Care Advisory Council will be March 20 in Alton at 9:00 a.m.

Illinois Adoption Advisory Council Update

Illinois Adoption Advisory Council recognizes individuals for contributions to adoption cause

At the November meeting of the Illinois Adoption Advisory, members marked National Adoption Month with a twist on a tradition. Each year the council recognizes an individual for his or her contribution to adoption and adoptive families. This year the council selected two people to show special appreciation.

Vince Champagne recently retired from DCFS where he served as an administrator in the Office of Health Policy. He was a reliable advocate on behalf of the council. He evaluated and recommended state and federal health policy changes that took into account the potential impact on adopted children. He also made significant efforts to keep the council informed of changes in store and to listen to the concerns that the council raised on behalf of adoptive families across the state. Due to his responsiveness, many adopted youth had more avenues for medical care and mental health available to them and also avoided obstacles that would have diminished their care.

The council also recognized the contributions of Ray Gates of DCFS. As a statewide administrator, Gates helped establish the council's role as a designated advisor to DCFS. He assisted the leadership in adopting its by-laws and growing in stature as a well-structured advocacy group. Gates supported the council professionally in his DCFS role and in spirit as a fellow adoptive parent. He was instrumental as a liaison between the council and several DCFS entities crafting the recently passed Sibling Rights legislation. Gates has been re-assigned to other duties in DCFS. The council made sure that he knew how much his years with them were appreciated.

DCFS moves more than 500 cases to adoption in 50 days

As 2014 came to a close, DCFS had one more important milestone to hit during the agency's 50th anniversary year. Former Acting Director Bobbie Gregg announced an ambitious and important goal to mark National Adoption Month in November. DCFS was going to help 500 children currently living in foster care find loving and permanent homes, within 50 days, through adoption and guardianship by January 5, 2015.

The "500 in 50" project rallied those on the frontline with families, high-level decision makers and partners with private agencies and the court system to remove barriers and identify resources that would open the path to permanency. The project's efforts were focused on two primary populations: the 307 children statewide with cases in the final stage of approval for adoption or guardianship; and the 374 children statewide who were waiting for a court date to finalize. In all, 512 children found their forever home.

"Illinois DCFS has done a tremendous job of recognizing the significance of permanency," said Anita Shannon, of Casey Family Programs. "For DCFS to accomplish a big task in such a short timeframe shows dedication and leadership."

Finding family connections to better outcomes

DCFS is in the fourth year of a five-year federal grant designed to link children in foster care with family members. In partnership with Adoptions Unlimited, Inc. the grant provides intensive family finding services in Cook County. It focuses on new cases of children ages 6 through 13. The goal of the demonstration project is to confirm that locating and engaging family members at the beginning of a child welfare case will decrease the likelihood of placement disruptions, decrease the length of stay in care, and will improve permanency outcomes.

Kin Connection Specialists will start working with the birth family immediately after the court grants temporary custody. They will work to identify family members who can act as resources for placement, back-up placement, hosting sibling visits, or mentoring the family. That information will be shared with caseworker and be part of the child's records.

“The Kin Connection Specialist contacted me once the kids came into foster care and I was able to reconnect with them. I can help them and their mom,” a grandmother said about the program.

An evaluation team from Loyola University follows the treatment group to determine if early family finding efforts have contributed to keeping children connected.

Fresh Start offers youth free surgery

Medical staff volunteer weekends for youth surgeries.

DCFS has entered into a partnership with Fresh Start, a California-based nonprofit that provides free reconstructive surgery and related healthcare services to infants, children and teens with physical deformities caused by birth defects, accidents, abuse or disease.

Fresh Start has expanded into Chicago by partnering with the University of Chicago Medical Center's Comer Children's Hospital. In February, a young man in DCFS care will be part of the surgery weekend in Chicago. His ear is severely deformed.

He is eagerly looking forward to a brighter future with a family and without the detraction of his injured ear.

Fresh Start sponsors surgery weekends three times each year for multiple children.

Children do not have to live in Chicago to be eligible for the program. If you would like to refer a child to Fresh Start or have questions about the application process, including completing the application, go to freshstart.org or ask your caseworker for more details.

LENDING LIBRARY IS BEING PHASED OUT

After many years of operation, the DCFS Foster Parent Lending Library has been suspended and will be closed by July. The need to monitor the breadth of materials and ensure they were all in line with the evolving standards of best practices and DCFS policy proved to be beyond the scope of the program.

Caregivers will still have an avenue to receive credits hours for educational materials they obtain from local libraries or other sources to help to care for the children in their home. After finishing the book, complete the Training Credit Approval Form (TCAF). A copy of the table of contents must be included to determine applicability of the information to the care of children. When approved, the eligible hours will be part of the caregiver's transcript. Caregivers can view their transcripts and download the TCAF at the DCFS Virtual Training Center at www.dcfstraining.org

Goble family's unexpected turn to foster care inspires others

Sharon and Michael Groble have inspired two other families to become licensed.

Michael and Sharon Groble both grew up in large families and desired to have a large family of their own. After many years of hope followed by discouraging news, they had only one child by birth. Then their life took a surprising turn. Sharon's sister had a friend who adopted three children from foster care. That put the Gables on a path they had never known about. They decided to explore foster care. The subsequent PRIDE training classes were "beautiful" and an "eye opener" for them, as they came into this with little or no knowledge of what fostering was all about.

Things were smooth after the first child, an active little boy, came to their family. After that brief "honeymoon" period, their daughter felt a bit displaced after being the only child in the home. However, she soon came to adapt to having a younger brother who used her dolls as various toys and tools. She even began saying prayers for a baby foster sister. Her answer came right before Thanksgiving of 2012, with the arrival of a second child through foster care. It was a girl.

Now both children have been adopted and the Gables have had a chance to look back on their experiences in building their family through foster care. They learned that it is important to recognize one's own limitations and to go into foster care with a "truthful heart." Sharon said she initially believed they could help any and every child. She knows now to consider situations from the child's perspective, as every family is not a good fit for a child. A foster family would do a child no good if there had to be an unplanned and disruptive placement move. Fostering also taught Sharon that she was "capable of doing more than I thought I could." She used to watch mothers busily attending to their little ones with bags on their hips and strollers in one hand. She would wonder if she could ever handle such situations. Yet here she is, stretched as a mother of three but managing with surprising dexterity.

The family's transition through foster care did not go unnoticed by those close to the Gables. Initially, relatives were worried that the prospect of children returning to their parents would be too much to cope with. However, both Michael and Sharon learned through the PRIDE training and through fostering itself to embrace the children's birth families. They shifted their attitudes and their expectations. As an added bonus, they have had less guilt in adopting the children who could not go home. That has made things easier for the children as well. They have shared their family's accomplishments and excitement with others. That has inspired three families they know to become licensed for foster care.

Sharon said everything crystallized in one moment when she saw the two oldest children were playing on the floor, and her husband was holding their foster daughter in his arms. Their eyes met and said, "Look how blessed we are. We did the right thing."

Northern Region sent 15 to college with DCFS scholarships

44 Families “born” on National Adoption Day

The Winnebago Circuit Court in Rockford marked the tenth annual National Adoption Day Celebration on November 22. In a special Saturday court session, 44 children became “official” members of their forever families.

Judges Joseph G. McGraw, Janet R. Holmgren, Mary Linn Green, Francis M. Martinez and Rosemary Collins, along with Circuit Clerk Tom Klein conducted the proceedings. Staff from DCFS and several private agencies and other court staff volunteered their weekend time to finalize these adoptions. This celebration was part of the National Adoption Day effort to raise awareness for the benefits of adoption.

Holiday cheer spread throughout the region by DCFS elves

The DCFS Northern Region's staff spread holiday cheer for families in the regional foster care program, often donating personal funds and volunteering time.

Joliet DCFS Office

Church of Glory Lutheran Church supported the holiday festivities for families served by the DCFS foster care program in the Joliet area. Each church member takes the names and wish lists of more than 80 children in care.

Congregants receive the lists, do the shopping and handoff the gifts to caseworkers for delivery.

Kankakee DCFS Office

Starfish Family Homes is a foundation that Sue-Anne O'Conner began about five years ago that has fundraisers designed to obtain gifts for foster children served by the Kankakee office.

DeKalb, Kane and DuPage DCFS Offices

A festive holiday party was held at Christ Community Church, St. Charles. The youth pastor of that church, Pete Sutton and his wife are licensed DCFS foster parents who helped to host the event. The organization It's Our Little Secret donated gifts and funds to make certain that families could enjoy with music, games, food and presents.

Aurora DCFS Office

The DCFS Office in Aurora was the spot for holiday fun thanks to a party with the help of the Walter and Connie Payton Foundation. Foster families supported by the DCFS regional foster care program gathered food, games and a bundle of gifts for the children. Staff from the office volunteered time to make sure that everything on the list was checked twice and families were ready for the holiday season.

Staff from the DeKalb office contributed winter accessories to decorate the "mitten tree." Families visiting the field office could select items for the children in their families.

Glen Ellyn visiting room transformed to whimsical wonderland

The Glen Ellyn office is in a corporate office park that could be found in any small suburban town. In other words, it's non-descript and not designed with children in mind. Volunteers from the Vulnerable Children's ministry of the Willow Creek Church took a generic space and turned it into a circus-themed fantasy world for children to enjoy when they have family visits.

The volunteer design team settled a circus theme that sets the mood for fun and imagination. The room contains handy storage space for toys and cozy nooks for family togetherness.

Artist Tracey Grein-Doherty said once she started painting on the wall-sized murals it was hard to stop, because she was having so much fun. The design team of volunteers from the church plotted out the rooms requirements, raised funds to purchase supplies, navigated safety requirements and rolled up their sleeves to clean and decorate.

Staff from the Glen Ellyn office hosted a thank-you party in appreciation for the effort. The project actually extended from the visiting room into the foyer, down the hall and into another conference room. The effect is welcoming and soothing as soon as anyone walks through the door.

Ethan

Ethan, 13, is friendly, outgoing, and eager to join a forever family. He is determined to be the best he can be, and is motivated by the various goals he sets for himself (as well as the goals other people set for him). He can become frustrated at times, but responds well to structure and support from loving, trusted adults. Ethan's hobbies include playing video games, tossing around the football, and taking care of dogs.

Ethan's worker says he is a well-mannered child who would thrive in a home that gives him the resources he needs to succeed, and also encourages him to maintain contact with members of his birth family.

To be the right match for Ethan, you can make sure he has plenty of structure in his life, and suggest goals for him to strive toward. You can also help him maintain a relationship with his brother, including regular visits. Ethan would like to join a family with "a mom, a dad, and older brothers." Other children in the home should indeed be older than Ethan. [8199]

James

This young man brings new meaning to the phrase "multi-tasking!" James, 12, likes to keep himself busy at all times by playing, laughing, talking, and interacting with others. He becomes distracted easily, but usually responds well to redirection. James prefers to play inside, and is especially partial to toys, including Transformers and LEGO pieces. He has been diagnosed with autism, and can become overwhelmed when confronted with loud noises or other excessive stimulation.

James' worker says he is an outgoing child who is both friendly and well-mannered. He has a wonderful imagination, and can entertain himself for hours on end.

James needs a loving, caring home environment. A potential parent, you can monitor his behavior and provide redirection to help him stay on task. You can also learn about autism, so you can become an effective advocate for him, both educationally and emotionally. The ideal family would include children who are roughly the same age as James, and would also help him maintain relationships with his siblings, including regular visits. [8015]

Joyanna

This outgoing young lady loves spending time with people. Whether she's singing, dancing, or playing with her siblings, Joyanna, 10, likes to be in the middle of the action. Her enthusiasm extends to school as well, where she does well academically and regularly volunteers to answer questions in class. During her quieter moments, she enjoys playing cards (especially Uno) and video games (especially Wii Sports).

Joyanna's worker says she is a caring child who enjoys helping others, and goes out of her way to assist younger children. The right parents for Joyanna will be able to remain patient as she adjusts to her new, permanent family. You can also help her maintain relationships with her siblings, including regular visits. Joyanna would like to join a family that is "nice" and "likes to have fun." Other children in the home should be older than Joyanna. [7743]

Sharena and Jamesetta

These young ladies are ready to join a forever family. Older sister Sharena, 14, is an intelligent child who does not need to be reminded to complete her homework or focus on her schoolwork. She is also a creative child who enjoys reading, writing, dancing, and playing with small dogs. Jamesetta, age 13, is a sweet child who gets along well with others. Her hobbies include singing and playing with her tablet computer.

The girls' teachers say they are good students who like to help out in the classroom. Their foster parent says they are generally well behaved and helpful at home.

The forever family for these sisters can provide a loving, nurturing home environment. You can support them as they adjust to their new, permanent family. You can also help them maintain relationships with their brother, including regular visits. Sharena and Jamesetta both state that they would like to join a family that will "love us and treat us nice." Other children in the home should be older than Sharena and Jamesetta. [8117-18]
