Illinois celebrates Foster Parent Appreciation Month

12 ways caregivers can mark the month

- * Join a foster parent support group and take a friend.
- * Flip through family photo albums.
- * Take a look at your rights and responsibilities under the Foster Parent Law and remember there is a state statute to support your efforts.
- * Pick a night to serve a cake with candles for dessert because your special family deserves a special day.
- * Make plans with another foster family to trade an afternoon watching the others' kids. Take the time to do something to refresh yourself.
- * Send a card to encourage a foster parent who is having a rough time.
- * Make a list of good parenting decisions you have made lately. Tuck it away for a "rainy day."
- * Write a letter to your local newspaper explaining the importance of foster care. Make the public take notice.
- * Meet a couple of foster parent friends over coffee.
- * Declare a "Good News Only Day." Let someone else field the phone calls from school and settle the squabbles. You'll have to take your turn one day the following week.
- * Pose for a family picture with all the kids who are part of your home.
- * Reconnect with an older youth who was once in your care.

WHEREAS, each year more than 4,000 children who have been abused or neglected cannot remain with their families safely, and these children need and deserve the temporary safe haven of a family home where they can be protected, nurtured and loved; and,

WHEREAS, without volunteer foster families, the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services would not be able to fulfill its mission to provide for the well-being of the nearly 15,000 children currently in its care; and,

WHEREAS, the department and its nonprofit partners provide a wide range of supports to assist foster families in meeting not only a child's basic physical needs, but also ensure her educational, emotional and social well-being, none of which can be achieved without the dedication of foster families; and,

WHEREAS, foster families answer a noble calling to devote their time and energies to children to reunite families when possible, support other permanency options and create opportunities for a successful launch to adulthood; and

WHEREAS, foster families provide children with the one thing they need the most, which cannot come from a government or nonprofit agency, but only from the heart of another human being: love; and,

WHEREAS, it is impossible to quantify the minute and magnificent ways foster parents change lives, and they deserve the utmost respect and gratitude for the lasting impact they have in the life of a child, in their communities and on the future prosperity of this state; and,

THEREFORE, I, Pat Quinn, Governor of the State of Illinois, do proclaim May 2013 as FOSTER PARENT APPRECIATION MONTH in Illinois, extending thanks on behalf of our the people of Illinois to the thousands of Illinois foster families, and encouraging all to consider joining them in their noble service to children, communities and our state.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Illinois to be affixed.

SECRETARY OF STATE

Pat Quinn

GOVERNOR

From the DCFS Director

Richard H. Calica

As we celebrate Foster Parent Appreciation Month, I offer my personal thanks to all of you for providing a temporary safe haven for children who cannot remain safely in their homes. The department and our nonprofit partners offer a wide range of supports to assist you in providing a safe, nurturing home for children in need. But you provide them with the one thing no state or private agency can offer: love.

As I talk with foster parents across the state, I am struck by their selflessness, compassion and tenacity. Foster parents brush aside praise and speak of the joy parenting brings to them. Thanks to your love, children who have been given every reason not to trust open their heart and place their faith in you. And when the challenges of parenting arise, you push through with resilience and grace.

The department's new resource and recruitment specialists have begun the tough task of identifying even more foster parents across Illinois who share your talent and commitment. As local plans develop, we welcome your advice and most importantly your help. If you would like to assist us in identifying friends, co-workers or relatives you believe share your strengths and your passion, or you are willing to share your experiences as a foster parent with others, please contact the supervisor for the regional recruitment specialist in your area.

Thank you again for everything you do, every day, to provide a safe, nurturing home for Illinois children.

Illinois shines statewide spotlight on Child Abuse Prevention Month

Those who do foster care can understand the key message of several events in April to raise awareness for Child Abuse Prevention Month. The theme for the first day of April was "Give, Volunteer and Act to ensure kids are safe." DCFS joined forces with Prevent Child Abuse-Illinois, local nonprofits and elected officials to encourage everyday Illinoisans to unite to protect children.

An estimated 125,000 Illinois children are abused or neglected each year, and one in five kids are abused before age 18. DCFS receives, investigates and acts upon a report of child abuse or neglect every five minutes, child sex abuse every two hours, and a child death by abuse or neglect every day-and-a-half. DCFS Director Richard H. Calica said that while many across Illinois are doing their part to ensure safe, loving homes for kids, more can be done.

"In the long run, the best solution, the only fiscally and socially responsible solution, is to prevent abuse before it starts," said Calica.

The speakers at the James R. Thompson Center reminded the public of the importance of reporting suspected instances of child abuse. They thanked individuals for donating to agencies that support families and encouraged them to give of their own time and talents as mentors and even as foster families.

Prevent Child Abuse-Illinois and DCFS coordinated high-profile events in Chicago, Springfield, Carterville and Edwardsville. Leaders from human services organizations, elected officials and committed volunteers demonstrated the strength that comes from working together to keep children safe from abuse and neglect.

MOVIN' ON UP: News for youth as they transition to adulthood

Older youth are about to embark on a busy season. The end of spring brings several special events designed to educate and encourage teens and young adults who are involved with DCFS.

The DCFS Office of Youth and Family Development is honoring students' academic accomplishments with a graduation celebration in each DCFS region. Those youth in care or those formerly under DCFS care who earned a high school diploma or GED or completed a vocational program are invited to attend.

There will also be four Youth Summits that will provide teens skills to help them successfully achieve self-sufficiency.

Save the date for the events listed below. More information will be sent directly to families with youth ages 14 to 21 who are still in care. Youth who are adopted or in guardianship can also take part in the events by calling one of the support staff below.

Illinois Statewide Foster Care Advisory Council Bulletin

Oversight of Foster Parent Law Implementation Plans

The Statewide Foster Care Advisory Council has wrapped up final evaluation of the Foster Parent Law Implementation Plans. As part of the plan review, council members can highlight plans that stand out and nominate them for awards in three areas:

- Dignity and Respect
- Organization/User Friendliness
- Foster Parent Involvement

The foster care programs that receive rewards are invited to a special event on May 17 where they will be honored for their commitment to the Foster Parent Law. Those outstanding plans will be featured in the next issue of Illinois Families Now and Forever®.

In addition to reviewing plans, the council members also visit agencies and DCFS regional programs to conduct interviews about how the plans are incorporated into practice. The council reported that site visits are on track to be completed on time.

Election of officers

In March and April nominations for the council’s chair and vice-chair positions were opened. The election of officers is set for the May 17 meeting. According to state statute, the council holds elections each year. The new officers will take their positions starting with the beginning of the new fiscal year on July 1.

The Statewide Foster Care Advisory Council was founded in conjunction with the Illinois Foster Parent Law. Membership consists of caregivers, agency representatives and other experts in child welfare who are appointed by the DCFS director. The mandated positions for caregivers are spread among the DCFS regions.

The council holds open meetings at least six times a year, and more as needed, in locations around the state.

The next meeting of the Statewide Foster Care Advisory Council will be on May 17 in Bloomington at 9 a.m.

Call the Office of Caregiver and Parent Support at 217-524-2422 for details.

“Leave no child inside,” Get out to state parks

The Illinois Department of Natural Resources (IDNR) has developed educational opportunities to teach young people about conservation and to foster an appreciation for the environment.

Children in all parts of the state can take advantage of free and low cost activities at state parks, park districts, schools and forest preserves. Youth can participate in archery, fishing, fort building, nature hikes, bird watching, rock wall climbing and camping. State parks will host many special outdoor recreational activities throughout the month of June.

Families can also visit Torstenson Educational Farm in Rockford to experience outdoor fun. Programs at the farm feature archery, fishing, nature hikes, bird watching, camping, mapmaking, land stewardship, GPS scavenger hunt, educational resource kits, survivor skills and habitat restoration.

For more information contact Jeffrey Jones, Director of Community Outreach, at 312-590-5094 or Jon Woods, youth program coordinator, at 312-720-7149. Stay updated on IDNR on Facebook at www.facebook.com/CommunityOutreachIDNR.

Foster Parent Law defines caregivers' rights and responsibilities

Before 1995, the rights and responsibilities for the individuals providing foster care were not clearly defined. Without a clear job description, caregivers, agencies and DCFS struggled to place caregivers' rights and responsibilities within child welfare policy. It took a lengthy, coordinated effort from individual caregivers, foster care advocacy organizations, legislators and child welfare personnel to bring about the Foster Parent Bill of Rights. That document provided the foundation for the Foster Parent Law, signed on June 3, 1995.

The Foster Parent Law clearly defines 15 rights and 17 responsibilities for all Illinois families who provide foster care to children in DCFS care. The statement of rights helps foster caregivers, agencies and DCFS regions know what role caregivers will play on the child welfare team and the consideration they should receive. The statement of responsibilities helps caregivers know what will be expected of them and gives a clear understanding of the general expectations they should have of the foster care agency or DCFS regional foster care program.

The accompanying Statewide Foster Care Advisory Council Law established the council to advise DCFS about foster care issues. The council also has the responsibility to oversee the implementation of the Foster Parent Law.

Details and the full text of Foster Parent Law are included in the Foster Family Handbook. Caregivers can also request their foster care program's annual Foster Parent Law Implementation Plan to see how it upholds the Law. The DCFS Office of Caregiver and Parent Support at 217-524-2422 can provide further information.

Caregivers have the right to:

1. Be treated with dignity, respect and consideration
2. Be provided pre-service and appropriate ongoing training to improve skills
3. Be informed on how to receive supportive services from the agency
4. Receive timely financial reimbursement commensurate with child's service plan
5. Be provided a clear, written understanding of the plan concerning the child's placement and how it will support his family relationship and cultural identity
6. Fair, timely and impartial investigations of licensing complaints
7. Receive additional information to assist in the care of a child while in placement
8. Receive specific information from DCFS and private agencies listed in Children and Family Services Act and the Child Care Act of 1969
9. Be notified of scheduled meetings and staffings in order to participate in case planning and decision-making
10. Be provided, before placement, with any information a caseworker has that is pertinent to the child's care and the permanency plan
11. Receive written notice of any change in a child's case plan or of plans to terminate the child's placement, along with the reasons for the change or termination
12. Timely notification of court hearings and right to intervene or request mandamus
13. Be considered as a placement option when a foster child who was formerly placed with the foster parents re-enters DCFS care
14. Access the existing appeals process with the assertion that the appeal will be free from acts of harassment and retaliation.
15. Be informed of the Foster Parent Hotline and the rights for foster parents when reporting misconduct by child welfare personnel

Caregivers have the responsibility to:

1. Communicate and share information with the child welfare team
2. Respect the confidentiality of information about the child and his family
3. Advocate for children in the care of the foster parent
4. Treat the child and his or her family with dignity, respect and consideration
5. Recognize their individual and family strengths and limitations and to utilize appropriate supports as appropriate
6. Be aware of the benefits of relying on and affiliating with other foster parents and foster parent associations
7. Assess their ongoing training needs and take action to meet those needs
8. Strategize with agency representatives to avoid placement disruptions and support the child if disruption occurs
9. Recognize the impact of foster care on relationships and take steps to minimize stress as much as possible
10. Positively promote the benefits of foster parenting
11. Know the role, rights and responsibilities of foster parents, other professionals in the child welfare system, the child, and the child's own family
12. Know and fulfill their role as a mandated reporter and know policies regarding allegations that foster parents have committed abuse or neglect
13. Know the purpose of and to participate in Administrative Case Reviews, client service plans and court proceedings
14. Know the child welfare agency's appeal process
15. Maintain accurate records
16. Share information about the placement with subsequent caregivers/parents
17. Provide care that respects the child's cultural needs supports the relationship between the child and his or her own family

Illinois Adoption Advisory Council update

At the April meeting of the Illinois Adoption Advisory Council, Cheryl McIntire, the statewide adoption administrator provided details on progress made since she took the position last winter.

The council was especially pleased to hear that DCFS is adding staff to support adoption efforts. In Cook County, there will be 15 workers devoted to adoptions and guardianship. Central Region will have 12, Northern Region will be up to seven and Southern Region will have five. Under the new structure, the supervisors now lead teams that will be trained in all aspects of adoption, from permanency planning to writing the subsidy and on to post-adoption support.

“Everyone is a ‘generalist,’ even if they have a specialty. We will move forward with the goal that everyone knows how to do everything,” McIntire said.

She said the staff is excited at the prospect of being able to fully serve families through all the stages of permanency. Additional training is already underway.

McIntire also outlined several initiatives to fine-tune the processes the lead to permanency. She has streamlined subsidy agreement review by setting up intake points in both Springfield and Cook County. She said new software developed to track the subsidy through all its milestones was successful in its pilot. It is planned to launch statewide. With the computerized log, a worker or supervisor can know exactly what needs to happen next and when the next task should be (or should have been) completed. Having everything mapped out and at the ready will make it easier to coordinate between the prospective family, the worker and juvenile court. It should significantly cut the time that it takes to thoroughly and correctly complete a subsidy package.

To be certain children are moving toward permanency within the designated timeframes, McIntire has established monthly meetings to review cases. She and the staff will go through cases, child by child, where there is a goal of adoption. They will discuss the child specifically, to troubleshoot and get the right permanency goal and assign tasks. This effort will ensure that the right resources are in place to successfully move the child to permanency.

Cheryl McIntire (r), statewide adoption administrator, and council co-chair Elizabeth Richmond discuss new adoption initiatives.

Call Adoption Support Line: 855-548-5505

The Adoption Support Line allows all adoption-related calls to come to a centralized location. During the move to adoption, a caregiver may be in close contact with the adoption worker. After finalization, sometimes years down the road when there is a question about a subsidy or a new need for services, caregivers may not know who to call. Now they can call support line for answers. Trained responders with adoption experience will be able to answer questions or direct calls for follow up.

The Adoption Support Line has extended hours so caregivers can call outside of the regular business day. Operating hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. (Monday through Thursday) and 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Fridays.

Calls requiring a normal response will be routed to the assigned worker and supervisor for follow-up to occur within 24 business hours.

The Illinois Adoption Advisory Council meets six times a year to discuss issues and make recommendations to DCFS regarding the concerns of adoptive and guardianship families. The Council is made up of parents, professionals in the child welfare field and adopted individuals.

The next meeting of the Illinois Advisory Council will be on June 7 in Bloomington at 10 a.m.

Call the Office of Caregiver and Parent Support at 217-524-2422 for details.

Davis family shares 30 years of foster care with youth and beyond

Thirty years ago when Ronald and Claudia Davis became foster parents with the intent to adopt, they could not have imagined how their lives would change. Not only did they add a son and a daughter to their family of three, they helped many children heal from their hurts by fostering.

“Fostering has been life changing and we treasure the experience,” said Claudia.

It’s almost a given that you change the lives of children, and sometimes even their parents. In Claudia’s case, the decision to do foster care actually changed life for her own parents as well. After watching Claudia and Ronald, Claudia’s parents in their senior years decided to be licensed for foster care. There are adult “children” who can still visit and call Claudia’s mom Mom.

Claudia and Ronald value those connections. They too remain in contact with children after they are old enough to leave their home. “Kids spend holidays and special occasions with us. We are now foster grandparents,” she said.

To build the lasting bridges between children and families, Claudia and Ronald know the importance of meeting children where they are at. When a child comes to their home they try to think about what he or she will need emotionally, socially and academically. Whether the children have stayed a month or years, the Davises have treated each child with respect.

Claudia and Ronald are particularly equipped to meet needs of young people who have faced difficulties. Ronald works in the juvenile court system and Claudia is a teacher.

“As a teacher I have been able to navigate and advocate educationally for the children in our care. I have experience with the educational system and I am an Educational Advocacy Trainer. Also, the in-service training I received from DCFS made me a better parent, foster parent and teacher,” Claudia said.

Through foster care she learned about ADD, ADHD, OCD and other disorders, which helped her to teach children with different learning styles and to work with the children who came into their home.

Claudia and Ronald believe it is important to share what they have experienced to benefit other families. Both have played active roles with the adoption and foster care advisory councils. Ronald served on the Illinois Adoption Advisory Council for six years and the Statewide Foster Care Advisory Council for two. Claudia served on the foster care council for eight years and is currently a member of the Adoption Advisory Council. She has been a PRIDE trainer for the past 20 years. She has also assisted foster parents as a foster parent support specialist in the Belleville area for eight years.

Claudia and Ronald remind foster parents that there will always be challenges with fostering, but the rewards are also great. They both agree that foster parents must put the best interest of the child first and to be supportive whatever the outcome.

“Fostering taught our children and us patience, tolerance, an understanding of others and to be thankful,” Claudia said.

DCFS Administration marks Foster Parent Appreciation Month

We couldn't have made a difference in the lives of the children and families we serve without you. As the DCFS regional administrator for the Southern Region I want to thank our foster family team members for going the extra mile to support our children and their families.

I also want to let you know where the Southern Region is headed in 2013.

Working together, I know we can:

- move children to permanency through return home, adoption and guardianship;
- provide needed services to our children and families in a timely manner to ensure a child's permanency is realized;
- ensure that our children have access to educational services, such as Head Start and primary, secondary and higher education programs to help them reach their full life potential;

- encourage foster family relationships with the children's families; and
- bridge all gaps in communication to ensure that foster parents and department staff are working effectively as a team.

Our foster parents play the most important role in helping our children overcome the trauma that they have experienced. Through our joint efforts we can help them become all they can be. Remember: "our children are our most valuable resource."

If you have ideas about how we can accomplish these goals, please get involved with the Southern Region Foster Care Advisory Council, which advises DCFS staff on foster care issues. I can also be reached by mail at #10 Collinsville Avenue, East St. Louis, IL 62201 or by phone at 618-583-2100.

SAVE the DATE: DuQuoin fair Free fun for foster families

On Saturday, August 24, the DuQuoin State Fair will be the place to be for foster families in the Southern Region. Once again DCFS and a broad range of community partners will present a picnic for foster families. It is open to all families whose licenses are supervised by DCFS or by private agency foster care programs, as well as unlicensed relative caregivers.

The picnic will begin at 10:30 a.m. and last until 12:30 pm. Foster families will enjoy free lunch and other treats. There will be games for the children and rides on a miniature train. Meanwhile, the adults can pass the morning relaxing with their children and networking with other families.

DCFS management and staff from the Southern Region and their community partners will be working hard on all the details that make this event memorable for families. Invitations will be mailed in July.

DCFS discount at new store for repurposed clothing for teens

ReFRESH is a fashion adventure of repurposed clothing for teens and twenties. It opened in July and is administered by the Foster Care & Adoption Coalition.

Youth in DCFS care each receive a 90% discount on $100 worth (original value) of clothing, jewelry and accessories during a six-month period. At the time of each visit, the youth must bring a ReFRESH approval form signed by his or her case manager. Each foster/adoptive/relative family will receive a 30 percent discount on $100 worth (original value) of clothing, jewelry and accessories during a six-month period.

The family must show a current check stub from DCFS or a private agency at the time of each visit. The discounts can be renewed in six months, following the same procedures.

The store is located in the Joseph H. White Building at 1710 S. Brentwood Blvd., St. Louis. Hours are: Thursdays 11 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Fridays and Saturdays 11 a.m. to 8p.m.; and Sundays 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Families can find support in numbers with caregiver groups

One of the responsibilities in the Foster Parent Law is to “be aware of the benefits of relying on and affiliating with other foster parents and foster parent associations.” DCFS, private agencies and community organizations sponsor many support groups and associations to assist foster and adoptive parents. The following list can help identify a group that may suit your family. This list will be updated annually. New transition manager matches Southern Region teens to resources

The Transition Manager for Southern Region is now housed in the Marion area office. Donna Wilson is now coordinating services for youth between the ages of 14 to 21 in conjunction with the youth’s caseworker. These services include the Youth Housing Assistance Program; Youth in College/Vocational Training Program; Life Skills Training and the department’s Scholarship Program. Wilson can be reached at 618-993-7100.

There are many avenues for young people to meet each other, learn about resources and advocate for their needs. The Southern Region Youth Advisory Board provides an opportunity for self-advocacy, allowing youth to share issues or concerns while in care, and the transition manager is present to provide any new DCFS policies or procedures directly affecting youth in care. The board is currently planning the Youth Summit, a day for fun and learning to prepare young people for adulthood. Save the date for June 18. Invitations will be mailed to homes.

Southern Region Training

The DCFS Office of Training has scheduled sessions of in-service training modules and other courses in locations across the region. To get specific dates and locations, visit the on-line Virtual Training Center (VTC) anytime at www.DCFstraining.org. Click on any of the links under Training Schedule to access course descriptions, in-service training and Educational Advocacy Training or call the DCFS Office of Training at 877-800-3393 during business hours.

The Virtual Training Center (VTC) is your tool to:

- see training news and general information;
- check available trainings;
- view/print your training transcript;
- register and take on-line courses; and
- download course materials to use in class or to access after training.

DIGITAL TRAINING MATERIALS NOW AVAILABLE

As we move into the digital age and aim to use fewer printed resources, DCFS Training has made many PRIDE materials easily available on the home page of the Virtual Training Center at www.dcfstraining.org.

Anyone may print the materials or download them onto almost any electronic device and bring their device to training class. Trainees who have no digital access should speak with their trainers when they arrive in class, so we can accommodate everyone.

Who do you call when....?

...A child in your home is having a psychiatric crisis that may require hospitalization?

Call the CARES line at 800-345-9049. However, if a child is a danger to himself or others, call 911 first. The CARES line is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

...You want information on becoming a foster parent or on adoption?

The Adoption Information Center of Illinois (AICI) can answer your questions and connect you with a licensing agency. The toll-free number is 800-572-2390. AICI also maintains information about the children who are featured in the newsletter.

...You have questions about your board check?

Call the DCFS Central Payment Unit at 800-525-0499 if your check comes from DCFS. If your check comes from a private agency, contact the agency.

...You need to report a child missing or have information about a youth who has run away?

To report information on missing youth call 866-503-0184. The toll-free number is available 24 hours a day every day of the week. If you feel the child is in danger, call 911 first.

...Your adoption or guardianship is final but you have questions about the subsidy?

Call the subsidy worker assigned to the case or the Adoption Support Line at 888-96-ADOPT so you can be connected to the right individual for help.

...You feel you aren't being treated fairly by DCFS or a private agency?

If you've already tried to resolve the issue by going up the chain of command with the caseworker and supervisors, then call the Advocacy Office at 800-232-3798.

...You have questions about your child's medical card?

Call 800-228-6533.

...You need to find a phone number for a caseworker?

Call the main switchboard in Chicago at 312-814-6800 or the State of Illinois Operator at 312-793-3500.

...You are having family problems with your adopted child?

Contact the Adoption/Subsidized Guardianship Preservation Program that serves your area. Call the Adoption Support Line at 888-96-ADOPT.

...You are having a hard time getting services for your child at school?

Most private agencies have an education liaison, and each DCFS region has education advisors who can help. Call your agency or nearest DCFS office to be connected to the right educational resource for your area.

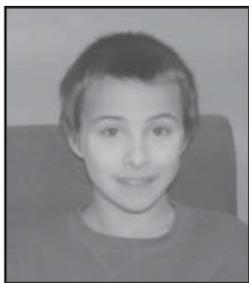

...You have questions about programs for youth approaching adulthood?

Contact the transition coordinator that serves your area, by calling the nearest DCFS regional office. The transition coordinator can advise on programs such as life skills training, preparation for higher education and employment assistance. Details on these programs can also be found at the Get Goal'd website www.youthincare.illinois.gov.

...You have an idea for an article in the newsletter?

Each region has reporters to help gather local news. The names and contact information are listed on the back page of each edition. You can contact the Editor, Vanessa James, at 312-814-6800 or send an e-mail message to vanessa.james@illinois.gov.

Christopher (8008)

Vasha [7686] Vasha, 13, is a considerate child who likes helping others. She enjoys attending church, participating in Bible study, and visiting with her relatives. She also enjoys singing, dancing, and listening to music. She struggles with self-control at times, but usually responds well when supervised by consistent, responsible adults.

Vasha's teacher says she is a sweet girl who behaves well in school and tries hard to please others. Vasha's foster parent says she is capable of following rules and behaving appropriately in the home.

Potential parents to Vasha would be loving and supportive, while also providing clear expectations and regular supervision. Once Vasha is adopted, you can give her plenty of time to adjust to your home. You can also work closely with child welfare professionals to help meet Vasha's medical and emotional needs, and to encourage continued positive behavior. The ideal family would live in the St. Louis area, and would help Vasha maintain relationships with her siblings and other members of her birth family

Chris [8008] Chris, 11, is a quiet, polite child who generally cooperates with others. He can be shy at first, but usually warms up to people once he gets to know them. Chris sometimes struggles to manage his emotions, but he has improved significantly in this area. In his spare time, he enjoys watching sports and taking care of animals.

Chris' worker says he is a friendly child who is easy to get along with. He does well when interacting with other kids in his community.

Chris' "forever family" can remain patient with Chris as he adjusts to his new, permanent home. You can provide the kind of structure and routine that will put him at ease. You can also work with professionals who can help him manage his emotions. Chris would like to live in a rural area, and would like to join a family that has pets. Chris should be the youngest child in his adoptive home.

Emmit [7908] Good luck convincing Emmitt to stay indoors, because this active, energetic 14-year old loves to play outside. Whether he's chasing bubbles, playing sports, or helping weed a garden, Emmitt is always happy to be outdoors, enjoying the fresh air. He is particularly eager to visit new places and learn new things. When he does settle down inside the house, Emmitt enjoys playing with magnets and solving simple puzzles. He has been diagnosed with autism and will need a family that understands, and knows how to meet, his educational and emotional needs.

Emmitt's worker says he is a warm, friendly child. He is also very helpful around the house, and is respectful toward adults. Emmitt has developed strong attachments to his current foster parent, and to members of her extended family. Permanent parents will need to be patient with Emmitt as he adjusts to his new, permanent family. You can introduce him to as many positive experiences as possible, and teach him to express his thoughts and feelings regarding those experiences. You can also work with professionals who can help you understand autism, and who can offer suggestions on how to meet Emmitt's educational and emotional needs.

James [8015] This young man brings new meaning to the phrase "multi-tasking!" James likes to keep himself busy at all times by playing, laughing, talking, and interacting with others. He becomes distracted easily, but usually responds well to redirection. James prefers to play inside, and is especially partial to toys, including Transformers and LEGO pieces. He has been diagnosed with autism, and can become overwhelmed when confronted with loud noises or other excessive stimulation. James is 10 years old.

James' worker says he is an outgoing child who is both friendly and well-mannered. He has a wonderful imagination, and can entertain himself for hours on end.

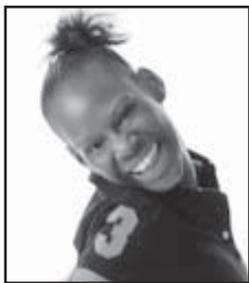

The family for James can monitor his behavior and provide redirection to help him stay on task. You can also learn about autism, so you can become an effective advocate for him, both educationally and emotionally. The ideal family would include children who are roughly the same age as James, and would also help him maintain relationships with his siblings, including regular visits.
