NOTES:

1. HEADER DEFINITIONS Pending Application: Individual (or a facility on behalf of client) submitted an application to determine Medicaid eligibility. If an individual is already Medicaid eligible, an application is not necessary. Pending Admit: Information from LTC Facility necessary to admit person into that facility. An admit request can be processed at the same time as application, but cannot be processed without an application. The total pending admits in Table 3 includes admissions that are not the result of a state delay. The total number of pending admits in progress that are a result of a state delay are outlined in Table 2.

2. Report shows that consolidation into the hubs is virtually complete for applications. While there are still a number of admits in a few other offices, they are being worked down.

3. Total pending applications over 90 days have increased by 9% since the beginning of December while total pending admits over 90 days have increased by 38% for the same period. Total pending applications have increased by 7% since the beginning of December, and total pending admits have increased by 9% for the same period. Total pending applications have increased by 13% since the beginning of October, and total pending admissions have increased by 32% for the same time period.

4. The LTC hubs have also been focused on completing applications on which the client has been denied and has later provided the necessary information to be reopened along with redeterminations and Personal Needs Adjustments.

5. When a client has both an application and an admit request, each of these shows in its respective columns. (In other words, the number of individuals affected is less than the sum of applications and admit requests.)

6. The pending admit totals contain 894 admits that cannot be completed by the State. These cases are waiting for a client income or resource spenddown to be met or for an asset penalty period that has been imposed to expire.

7. A LTC asset penalty period results from non-allowable transfers.

8. When a person has both countable income and excess resources, countable income is applied first, then excess resources are applied to meet the cost of care, if necessary. The amount of remaining excess resources available to apply to the person's care is refigured for each month as excess resources are applied to NH or SLF charges, and the remaining excess resource amount to be used for the following month(s) is reduced.
