RE: Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights – Application for Certificate of Need

Dear Review Board Members:

I am opposed to the granting of a certificate of need to Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights. Transitional Care Center has requested a certificate of need to build a long term care facility located at 1200 N. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights, IL.

I believe Arlington Heights lacks any demand for a long term care facility. Arlington Heights and communities surrounding already meet the current demands for these type of facilities. The granting of a certificate of need should only be granted if an applicant can justify that this type of facility is financially and economically feasible. I do not believe the Transitional Care Center meets these justifications. As it simply exasperates the existing market.

Numerous companies located in Arlington Heights already own and run more than 500 beds in the area. Too many facilities like this can be harmful to a community. Who is to say that if Transitional Care Center is allowed to build that they would not hurt the surrounding centers offering the same care; centers that have a long history in Arlington Heights. To my knowledge the citizens of Arlington Heights have no complaints about the current long care centers services or availability.

Thank you for the opportunity to share my opinion. Please take my concerns seriously and do not grant Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights a certificate of need.

Sincerely,

Robin Suson

The granting of a certificate of need should only be granted if an applicant can justify that this type of facility is financially and economically feasible. I do not believe the Transitional Care Center meets these justifications. As it simply exasperates the existing market.

Numerous companies located in Arlington Heights already own and run more than 500 beds in the area. Too many facilities like this can be harmful to a community. Who is to say that if Transitional Care Center is allowed to build that they would not hurt the surrounding centers offering the same care; centers that have a long history in Arlington Heights. To my knowledge the citizens of Arlington Heights have no complaints about the current long care centers services or availability.

Thank you for the opportunity to share my opinion. Please take my concerns seriously and do not grant Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights a certificate of need.

Sincerely, Barbara Northway

RE: Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights -- Application for Certificate of Need

Dear Review Board Members:

I am opposed to the granting of a certificate of need to Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights. Transitional Care Center has requested a certificate of need to build a long term care facility located at 1200 N. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights, IL.

I believe Arlington Heights lacks any demand for a long term care facility. Arlington Heights and communities surrounding already meet the current demands for these type of facilities. The granting of a certificate of need should only be granted if an applicant can justify that this type of facility is financially and economically feasible. I do not believe the Transitional Care Center meets these justifications. As it simply exasperates the existing market.
